

Bruce Kuhn Biography Variations

Shorter Professional for Universities/Theatres

BRUCE KUHN appeared in Les Miserables on Broadway until he joined the National Tour of Chess. He also did the National Tour of Cotton Patch Gospel. Three seasons at Actor's Theatre of Louisville saw him in roles as diverse as D'Artagnan in The Three Musketeers, and Puck in A Midsummer Night's Dream. He now tours his solo performances of The Gospel of Luke, Acts, Tales of Tolstoy, and Cotton Patch Gospel to universities, churches and conferences across North America and Europe. He received his classical training and Master of Fine Arts at the University of Washington in Seattle under Dr. Robert Hobbs, and later trained with Uta Hagen in New York City. He is husband to Hetty, and father to Frits and Juliette.

www.brucekuhn.com